Just an FYI. We met with a number of citizens from Susquehanna County and Dimock yesterday and they told us their concerns and we observed a site that had an "inadvertent return to surface" of their drilling mud during their "boring" (not drilling) activities. They sent an image of the billboard they funded and I thought you would be interested in seeing this.

Subject: EPA billboard sponsored by Susquehanna Co citizens

Thank you so much for coming to northeast pa to sit down with citizens and look us in the eye and hear our stories about living in an active natural gas drill zone in PA. The attached billboard was designed by us collectively and we ran it as a billboard in Montrose , the county seat of
